

PANION ANIMAL HEALTH AB

Anja E. H. Holm has been appointed CEO of Panion

The Board of Panion has appointed Anja E. Holm as CEO. Anja assumed her position on 25 October 2016.

Anja E. H. Holm has many years of experience as Chair of the Committee for Medicinal Products for Veterinary Use, European Medicines Agency (EMA) in London. With extensive experience of the development of veterinary medical products in combination with strategic leadership, from the Danish Medicines Agency, Anja has a solid background.

Concurrently with chairmanship of EMA Anja has had the role of section leader for clinical trials at the Danish Medicines Agency, and has a very good knowledge of biotechnological research and the EU's regulations concerning the approval of medicines.

The aim of the work is to apply new understanding of chronic diseases and disorders, such as epilepsy, to the development of a medicine that can improve quality of life for animals.

Based on preclinical data and advances in manufacturing, the product will be tested on dogs in a clinical phase.

The company in brief

In June 2015 CombiGene formed a wholly owned subsidiary, then called CombiGene Vet AB, and in April 2016 the decision was taken to distribute the subsidiary to CombiGene's shareholders with the aim of listing the company. The company, which has been renamed Panion Animal Health AB, will use CombiGene's discoveries to develop a treatment for canine epilepsy. Panion Panion aims at inlicensing or acquiring other veterinary medicine projects or products.
