Customer story – Acconeer's A111 radar sensor in IoT parking solution

From today, Acconeer will start sharing selected customer stories to show innovative ways our customers use the A111 radar sensor in their products and solutions. The first customer story is from HANCOM Mobility, who uses Acconeer's radar in their parking sensor, which is a key part of the ParkingFriends™ platform provided by HANCOM Mobility.

"By providing customer stories, Acconeer hopes to inspire more innovations, use cases and products. The possibilities with radar technology are endless, and to show actual customer implementations is a way to spark ideas for new exciting applications." says Lars Lindell, CEO Acconeer.

As highlighted in the Interim report for Q3 2019, Acconeer has seen eleven customer launches so far. Going forward, some of these will be showcased online, starting today with HANCOM Mobility's ParkingFriends™ platform.
