Consilium receives order of SEK 23 million for fire alarms on high-speed trains in China

Consilium has received an order to equip 148 high-speed trains (total 1,184 coaches) with fire alarms. The coaches are being built by the Chinese train manufacturer Sifang. The order value is SEK 23 million.

“Major infrastructure investments in railway systems are taking place on a global scale. Consilium has gradually built up a global market organisation for this niche market. China is one of the countries making major infrastructure investments in trains and underground systems, which is why this is an important order,” says Ove Hansson, CEO of Consilium.
