Urb-it has integrated and partnered with Maersk to provide last mile delivery services in Madrid, Barcelona, and Valencia

Urb-it is pleased to announce that it has integrated with leading global shipping and logistics company A.P. Møller – Mærsk A/S (known as Maersk) and will provide last mile delivery services across Urb-it's Spanish market. Following a go live in Madrid, the service will be rolled out in Barcelona and Valencia respectively.

Through this collaboration, Maersk further reinforces its position as a global leader in integrated logistics, connecting its vast network to Urb-it's sustainable last-mile service, thus allowing goods to travel from warehouse to end-customer doorstep, with a lower carbon-footprint.

Kevin Kviblad, CEO Urb-it said:
